

Adobe Premiere's Different Panels

Preview of one file (Audio / Photo / etc)

Preview of the video project overall

The screenshot shows the Adobe Premiere Pro interface with several panels and handwritten annotations:

- Top Left Panel (Audio): Shows a waveform for 'clapton.mp3'. A blue arrow points to the waveform with the text 'Preview of one file (Audio / Photo / etc)'. Two yellow circles on the waveform are labeled 'Lead-In Point' and 'Lead-Out Point'.
- Top Right Panel (Program): Shows a video preview of a palm tree with the text 'ERIC CLAPTON 461 OCEAN BOULEVARD'. A pink arrow points to the preview with the text 'Preview of the video project overall'. A pink circle around the play/pause button is labeled 'Play / Pause'.
- Bottom Left Panel (Project): Shows a list of assets including 'Chorus', 'clapton.jpg', and 'clapton.mp3'. An orange arrow points to this panel with the text 'All of the files (audio/photos/etc) available in this project'.
- Bottom Right Panel (Timeline): Shows a multi-track timeline with video (V1, V2, V3) and audio (A1, A2, A3) tracks. A green circle around the video tracks is labeled 'V for video tracks', and a purple circle around the audio tracks is labeled 'A for audio tracks'. A purple arrow points to the timeline with the text 'My overall product gets created here'.

All of the files (audio/photos/etc) available in this project

My overall product gets created here